SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Montgomery County Literacy Network, an affiliation of over thirty organizations, businesses, and agencies concerned with literacy issues in Montgomery County, is inaugurating a scholarship program for adults enrolled in the Adult Diploma Program. Eligible individuals will receive scholarship support through an established program in the County to aid their progress toward a high school diploma. The following description sets out the guidelines, standards, and goals of the program.

Goals: To increase the number of adults preparing and completing the Adult High School Diploma program.

To assist adults with financial need in preparing for and taking the GED examinations, if applicable.

Priorities: To assist students working with non-profit literacy organizations committed to providing educational resources to adults.

Eligibility: Students must be nominated by or through an organization that provide an adult high school diploma program or GED preparation.

Guidelines: Literacy organizations and schools in Montgomery County should nominate individuals for scholarship support. Besides submitting the Nomination Form (enclosed), the organization should forward a personal letter of application from the candidate.

GED and other adult literacy organizations should keep the Literacy Network informed of a student's completing or leaving the program. The Literacy Network will recognize students receiving their High School Diploma or GED certificate with scholarship support.

Limitations: All applications will be reviewed. However, the Literacy Network will not be able to approve all applications for assistance. MCLN will give priority to applications from non-profit agencies whose directors can provide evidence of a student's needs.
